

January 2, 1917.—To the Legation—getting off dispatches about the deportations—a difficult one to write, for when one tells the simple truth about it, as I understand it, as I hear it on all sides, one has the feeling that one is dealing in impossible, sensational imaginings, so unbelievable is it.